SMALL BUSINESS INNOVATION RESEARCH/ SMALL BUSINESS TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER RESEARCH (SBIR/STTR) LIFE SCIENCES WORKSHOP

A small business innovation research workshop for emerging your small biotech enterprise.

If you have interest in starting up a new biotechnology business, this workshop is for you!

FREE Event!

Wednesday, September 30, 2015
Biotechnology Building G-01

Federal SBIR/STTR awards are an important source of funding for start-up and small businesses.

They stimulate early-stage business development out of university and industry technologies.

This workshop will provide current information and practical advice to faculty, research associates, postdocs, and students interested in acquiring funding for academic research that has commercial potential.

- Learn how the SBIR has specific advantages for startups
- Hear a success story from an SBIR recipient
- Bring your questions!
